SPECIAL EDITION

NEWSFLASH

Dear ENOTHE Members,

Maybe you have already noticed on our social media (FB/Twt: @enOThe1) but with the start of spring and opening up of the world after the pandemic new opportunities emerge to travel and finally meet face-to-face again to work on OT Education on a European Level. As ENOTHE board we have to use our resources smart and sustainable and combined with the strength of the (geographic) diversity in the board we have decided to split up for several face-to-face meetings to create as much impact as possible.

Since we are starting up the TUNING Review process through CALOHEE (Opportunities – ENOTHE) a delegation of the board joined a TUNING meeting in Bologna where six other professions next to OT joint the starting point of a review process of TUNING Competence, Reference Points and Curriculum Guidelines. A very important and timely action from ENOTHE to start no wand toward the Annual Meeting in October prepare a kick-off with members to start the work on a pre-congress TUNING day!

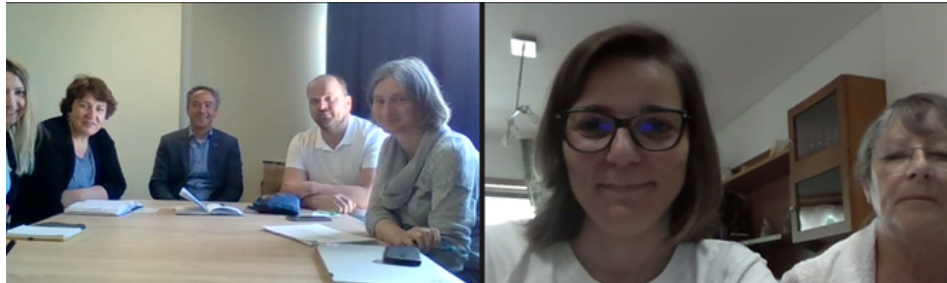

To prepare the Annual Meeting in Tbilisi, Georgia in October and to push the development of OT and OT Education in Georgia another delegation travelled to Tbilisi to finally meet the hosts in person who will lead the program. It was a very warm welcome and wonderful visit, including important meetings with university stakeholders like the Rector Magnificus, the dean of the faculty of Psychology, the heads of the PR department and international office. And, of course the team of teachers and students. Also, we visited clinical fieldwork sites which will be part of the site visit program during the Annual Meeting.

The sites where the Annual Meeting will take place are located in the beautiful and ancient University Building and fantastic surroundings of the old and new city of Tbilisi. The board was impressed by the warm welcoming culture, the vibe of a city for students and of course the splendid wine and food. We hope most of you will join the Annual Meeting in person to experience yourselves.

Of course, we realize that the situation in Ukraine is still ongoing and we cannot and will not stop supporting and advocating towards a more peaceful situation in the region. ENOTHE's actions for peace will continue and also will create supporting possibilities for local and regional colleagues and students to be able to join the annual meeting.
